ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS

Minutes of April and May meetings. The minutes of the April 22, 1967 meeting and May 12, 1967 meeting were approved as presented by the staff.

Future meetings. Future meetings are scheduled as follows:

June 29 (evening), 30, and July 1 Sacramento Note: The time of this meeting was changed to June 29 (evening), 30,

and July 1

July 28 (evening), 29 San Francisco

August No meeting

Sacramento meeting. The Commission adopted a suggestion of Senator Song that the June meeting be held in Sacramento. The Commission also adopted a suggestion of Senator Song that Chief Justice Traynor be invited to speak on the subject of law reform at a luncheon to the lawyer members of the Assembly and other legislators to be invited by Senator Song. Senator Song agreed to undertake to make the necessary arrangments for the luncheon which will be held on Friday during the time the Commission will meet in Sacramento. It was suggested that Justice Regan be invited to the luncheon.

If Chief Justice Traynor is unavailable, the Commission plans to have lunch with a few members of the Legislature to be invited by Senator Song.

Assistant Executive Secretary position. The Commission directed the Executive Secretary to invite the first three persons on the list for the Assistant Executive Secretary position to appear before the Commission for an interview before the Commission determines the person who should be appointed to this position.

Report on 1967 Legislative Program. The Executive Secretary reported that all bills recommended by the Commission have passed the Senate. The status of the bills in the Assembly was discussed. As reported in these Minutes, the Commission determined to withdraw its recommendation that Senate Bill No. 252 (leases) be enacted at the current session.

STUDY 36 - CONDEMNATION LAW AND PROCEDURE (DISCOVERY IN EMINENT DOMAIN PROCEEDINGS - SENATE BILL NO. 253)

The Commission considered Memorandum 67-37 and the attached material, including a revision of Senate Bill No. 253 (as amended in the Senate, March 9, 1967) and a revision of the proposed comments to the various sections.

The Commission directed that various changes be made in the bill.

For convenience in showing these changes, they are set forth in the revision of the bill attached to these minutes. The Commission also directed that the proposed official comments to the various sections be revised to reflect the changes made in the revised bill.

The reasons for revising the bill were essentially three-fold, as follows:

- (a) To specify the effect of enactment of the bill upon the existing procedure in Los Angeles County;
- (b) To take into account the recent revision by the Judicial Council of the court rules governing pretrial; and
- (c) To accomodate, insofar as possible, the views of the appraisal profession.

Judge Wright and Commissioner Barry outlined the Los Angeles procedure and illustrated the need for that procedure in assuring calendar control and trial preparation. They also pointed out the difficulties that would be encountered in Los Angeles County if the simplified procedure provided by the bill were made applicable in all cases. After extended consideration of the problem and alternative solutions, the Commission determined to make the procedure provided by the bill inapplicable to eminent domain proceedings in Los Angeles County in which a pretrial conference is held. The reason for limiting the exclusion to pretrial cases is to make the statutory procedure available in cases where a pretrial is not held. The staff was directed, however, to prepare provisions that specify the details of a procedure for "in camera" exchanges that might be adopted by rule in other counties of the state. These provisions will be considered at a future meeting but are not to be included in Senate Bill No. 253.

Various changes were made to take into account the fact that, under the revised pretrial rules, a pretrial conference may not be held in many eminent domain proceedings. For example, in subdivision (a) of Section 1272.01, the time for service and filing of the demand for an exchange was changed to relate to the date of trial rather than to the date of the pretrial conference. As revised, the provisions of the bill are not dependent upon the holding of a pretrial conference, the termination of discovery, the machinery for setting trial dates, or other matters governed by court rules.

Dr. Babcock and other members of the American Society of Appraisers explained the views of professional appraisers. In general, professional evaluators would oppose the use of "statements of valuation data" because the information is taken out of context, may be extracted by persons other than members of the appraisal profession, and may be misleading without the appraiser's analysis, assumptions, and qualifying conditions. Appraisers generally would prefer the use for all purposes of full and reasoned appraisal reports. Dr. Babcock outlined the contents of such a report and gave illustrations of matters that would be contained in the report but would not be required to be disclosed by Senate Bill No. 253. It was pointed out, however, that in providing a simple procedure for pretrial disclosure, the bill does not curtail the importance of the appraiser's thoroughness in making his investigation and forming his opinions, does not diminish his role in preparing the client's case, and does not reduce the importance of opinion testimony in the trial of the case. pointed out that, absent such a procedure as that provided in Los Angeles County, there is no feasible way to enforce a requirement that complete appraisal reports be exchanged prior to trial. However, the Commission directed various changes in the bill to accompdate the views expressed. The bill was made to specifically provide that an appraisal report may be used as a "statement of valuation data" (Section 1272.02(f)); statements that are not appraisal reports were required to be signed by the witness and recite that the information fairly and correctly states the opinions and knowledge of the witness (Section 1272.02(e)); changes were made to permit the depositing of appraisal reports with the clerk (Section 1272.01(e)); and the content of statements of valuation data was expanded to include suggestions made by the appraisers (Section 1272.02(b)).

The specific changes made in the bill are as follows:

- (a) The title of the new chapter added by the bill was changed to refer to exchanges of information, rather than "discovery."
- (b) The time for filing demands for exchanges of information was limited to 50 days prior to trial, rather than 10 days prior to pretrial. Section 1272.01(a).
- (c) Throughout, the bill was made to refer to a list of expert witnesses and statements of valuation data for each valuation witness, rather than to a single "statement of valuation data."

- (d) The time for service of "cross-demands" was limited to 40 days prior to Grial, rather than 10 days after service of a demand. Section 1272.01(b). The purpose of this change is to permit the maximum feasible time for the service of cross-demands.
- (e) Throughout the bill, and particularly in Sections 1272.01 and 1272.02, the language was changed to refer to the calling of witnesses or to the presentation of data "on direct examination during the case in chief."

  The purpose of this change is to avoid stating the various detailed requirements of the bill in broader language than that used in Section 1272.04 which provides the only sanction for compliance with the chapter.
- (f) Subdivision (e) was added to Section 1272.01 to provide that lists and statements are not filed in the proceeding but are deposited with the clerk for the limited purpose of permitting the court to apply the provisions of the chapter. The purposes of this change are to avoid the mechanical problems of filing irregular sized documents, to encourage the use of appraisal reports, and to provide a means of disposing of the lists, statements, and reports after they have served their purpose.
- (g) The content of the statements was expanded to include a recitation of the estate or interest being valued and the date of valuation assumed by the witness. Section 1272.02(b). This change was made to accompdate the view of professional evaluators that an appraisal report should state these matters.
- (h) A requirement was added that, in connection with the supporting opinion of another expert, the business, occupation, or profession of that expert, and a statement as to the subject matter of his opinion, be disclosed. Section 1272.02(d).

- (i) A requirement was added that a statement of valuation data that is not an appraisal report be signed by the witness and recite that it correctly states the opinions and knowledge of the witness. Section 1272.02(e). The principal purpose of this change is to preclude misstatement or misinterpretation of the views of a valuation witness.
- (j) The bill was made to provide specifically that an appraisal report may be used as a statement of valuation data under the bill. Section 1272.02(f).
- (k) With respect to all expert witnesses (including experts other than evaluators), a requirement was added that the list of expert witnesses include a statement as to the subject matter of the opinion to be given. Section 1272.03.
- (1) The bill was clarified to provide that the sanction of the bill is invoked by objection of an adverse party and that objections may be made only by a party who has himself complied with the chapter. Section 1272.05 (first paragraph).
- (m) For the reasons mentioned, the bill was made inapplicable to proceedings in Los Angeles County in which pretrial conferences are held. Section 1272.07
- (n) The bill was made to specify that the procedure it provides does not affect the time for completion of discovery in the proceeding. Section 1272.08. The principal purpose of this change is to emphasize the fact that a party may not use the machinery of the bill to initiate discovery nor expect further discovery to be authorized or the trial date to be postponed because of information obtained by use of this disclosure procedure.

STUDY 50 - ABANDONMENT OR TERMINATION OF LEASES (SENATE BILL NO. 252)

The Commission considered Memorandum 67-32, the two supplements to that memorandum, and the draft legislation attached to the second supplement. The staff proposed to substitute that draft for the provisions contained in Senate Bill No. 252, as last amended in the Assembly, April 12, 1967.

Mr. Golden expressed his general view that enactment of the proposed legislation would create substantial problems for lessors, even though the bill were made entirely inapplicable to leases involving a rental of more than $500 per month or a term in excess of five years. He also expressed his belief that most lessors would, as a matter of self-interest, relet the property to mitigate damages because most lessors would be reluctant to sacrifice assured receipts of rent to obtain the uncertain fruits of a lawsuit. He also expressed the view that a general duty to relet the property to mitigate damages would create a factual and troublesome defense that might prove both awkward and unfair to lessors, especially in that such a duty would require the lessor, in effect, to compromise his claim to future rentals.

After consideration of the problems, the draft prepared by the staff, and various alternatives, the Commission determined to withdraw its recommendation that Senate Bill No. 252 be enacted at this session of the Legislature. The staff was directed to obtain a greater range of views from those concerned, especially those concerned with problems of lessees and persons in the real estate field. The Commission generally accepted the suggestion of Mr. Golden that, in view of the extensive changes that would be made in Senate Bill No. 252, an opportunity for further study should be given to those concerned with the proposal.

In discussing the draft legislation attached to the second supplement, the following suggestions were discussed but no action was taken:

- (a) In proposed Civil Code Section 1951 delete the introductory phrase "Unless the lease otherwise provides,". The effect of this change is to preclude leases (other than long-term and large-rent leases under Section 1951.5) from making inapplicable the usual remedy of damages.
- (b) In the first numbered paragraph of subdivision (a) of Section 1951, change the second sentence, in the interest of clarity, to read:

For the purpose of this paragraph, the present worth of an unpaid rental installment that is not yet due is that sum which, together with four percent simple interest thereon from the present time to the due date of the rental installment, is equal to the amount of the rental installment.

- (c) At the end of subdivision (a) of proposed Section 1951.5, add the additional paragraph:
  - (3) The lease provides that the lessee may assign his interest in the lease to any other person reasonably acceptable as a tenant to the lessor.

The effect of this change is to permit the lessor to recover future rentals as they become due under the terms of the lease if the lease provides a general right of assignment to the lessee.

STUDY 63 - EVIDENCE CODE (EVIDENCE CODE REVISIONS)

The Commission considered Memorandum 67-35 which included a report on Senate Bill No. 247 (General Evidence Code Revision).

The Commission considered the suggested revision of proposed Section 646 (res ipsa loquitur) which was attached as Exhibit I to Memorandum 67-35 and the oral comments on that draft provided to Commission McDonough by the Judicial Council (represented by Jon Smock).

After having considered the drafting suggestions of the Judicial Council, the Commission revised the material set out in Exhibit I to read as follows:

- (a) The judicial doctrine of res ipsa loquitur is a presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence. Unless the party against whom the presemption operates has produced such evidence that the inference of negligence is dispelled as a matter of law, the facts making the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur applicable will support an inference of negligence even after sufficient evidence to support a contrary finding has been introduced.
- (b) If the party against whom the res ipsa loquitur presumption operates introduces evidence which would support a finding that he was not negligent, the court may, and upon request shall, instruct the jury that the facts that make the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur applicable are themselves evidence of such party's negligence from which the jury may infer that he failed to exercise due care. The instructions should make it clear that the jury should draw the inference and find for the party in whose favor the presumption operates only if, after weighing the direct and circumstantial evidence of negligence together with all of the other evidence in the case, it believes that it is more likely than not that the accident was caused by the negligence of the party against whom the presumption operates.

The Commission then considered the position of the Judicial Council on the revised section which can be summarized as follows:

- (a) The Judicial Council would prefer that the section contain only the first sentence of the section as set out above.
  - (b) The Judicial Council, by way of compromise, would not object if the section were enacted in the form set out in the Commission's recommendation (as presently contained in Senate Bill No. 247).

(c) The Judicial Council would prefer that the section be deleted entirely from the bill rather than being enacted in the more detailed form contained in Exhibit I, even if that draft were revised to incorporated the drafting suggestions of the Judicial Council.

The Judicial Council takes this position because it believes that no statement of the effect of a particular presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence is necessary. All of the language contained in the revised section necessarily follows from the general provisions of the Evidence Code relating to presumptions and the inclusion in the revised section of the detailed description of how res ipsa loquitur operates casts doubt on the effectiveness of the general sections relating to presumptions.

After considerable discussion, the Commission adopted the view that the section should be deleted entirely from the bill. The Commission took this view because the section as recommended appears to be unacceptable to the Legislature, because—the Judicial Council objects to the revised section, and because time limitations did not permit the review of the revised section by the State Bar Committee on Evidence, and by the Conference of Judges, and by other interested persons. The Commission plans to continue its study of res ipsa loquitur with a view to developing appropriate legislation that will be accepted by all interested persons as a desirable statutory statement of the doctrine.

The Executive Secretary was directed to discuss this matter with Assemblyman Bear and to obtain his views on the matter before the bill is amended to delete the proposed section. If Assemblyman Bear believes that a statement of res ipsa loquitur should be included in the bill, the matter should be resolved in a way that appears best to the legislative member of the Commission (Senator Song) under the circumstances.

STUDY 63 - EVIDENCE CODE (COMMERCIAL CODE REVISIONS)

The Commission considered Memorandum 67-35 which included a report on Senate Bill No. 249 (Commercial Code Revisions).

The Commission approved the deletion of the provision that was to have been added to Commercial Code Section 1202 to provide that nothing in that section precludes the parties from providing by contract that the document shall have a different effect than the effect prescribed by this section. This provision was considered unnecessary in view of Commercial Code Section 1102 which provides in part: "The effect of provisions of this code may be varied by agreement, except as otherwise provided in this code and except . . ."

STUDY 67 - UNINCORPORATED ASSOCIATIONS

The Commission considered Memorandum 67-35 insofar as it related to Senate Bill No. 251 (unincorporated associations) and approved the following amendments to Senate Bill No. 251 as amended in the Senate on May 2, 1967:
